Quartesian Signs Enterprise License Agreement to Offer Complete Access Across Markets to Medidata's Industry Leading Cloud Platform

NEW YORK & PRINCETON, N.J.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Dec. 13, 2017-- Medidata (NASDAQ:MDSO), the leading global provider of cloud-based solutions and data analytics for clinical research, announced that Quartesian, a leading data clinical research organization (CRO), has signed a new enterprise license agreement to provide sponsors with complete access to the unified Medidata Clinical Cloud® and advanced analytics platform. Quartesian has been a Medidata partner since 2014, with the collaboration facilitating clinical trial breakthroughs for all market segments, from small phase I to large phase III studies.

Known for delivering "Clinical Data Your Way" for early and late-stage clinical studies, Quartesian will build on its expertise around Medidata Rave®, the world's leading solution for capturing, managing and reporting patient data, to now offer a broader set of data capture and data management capabilities to all of its customers.

The company completed training and has accreditations to implement and market Medidata products; including Rave, Medidata Coder®, Medidata TSDV, Medidata Balance®, which unifies randomization, trial supply management and EDC into one system and Medidata Patient Cloud ePRO, a mobile app for patient reported outcomes. Over the last three years, Quartesian has seen a significant increase in the demand for these solutions. With its growing expertise in key Medidata technology for clinical research, Quartesian is consistently able to rapidly deploy high quality, cost-efficient clinical data services for many of its life sciences customers and CRO partners.

"Signing this enterprise agreement has been the culmination of over three years of experience and partnering with Medidata. We are excited about being able to offer the complete Medidata suite across all Quartesian's market segments. Whether it is phase I or generic programs or larger phase II and III studies, Quartesian can offer the industry's leading data capture system combined with our low-cost EDC build, data management and biostatistical programming," said Stephen Boccardo, Quartesian's senior vice president of business development and commercial strategy. "This marks a major milestone in the evolution of Quartesian and cements our position as the leading provider of high quality, timely clinical data services delivered with the best value in the industry. "

"We are delighted that Quartesian is benefitting from Medidata's unified platform and advanced analytics," said Glen de Vries, Medidata president and co-founder. "We share Quartesian's mission of helping life sciences companies advance their scientific goals. It's exciting to provide them with tools and data insights that help achieve it, ultimately accelerating the delivery of new therapies to patients."
